Bosch Home Appliances 1 week ago Hi Emily G., Thank you for your question. We're so sorry to hear you're having issues with your appliance.

E29 generally means that no water filling detected by the flow sensor. Some possible reasons for this could be the water tap is closed, the filter or supply is blocked, or that the water pressure is incorrect. You may want to take a look at the above reasons to ensure the matter can't be resolved by some basic trouble shooting. If you don't find a blockage, the water pressure is fine and the tap is open, then you may need to have a technician inspect the unit. I found objects in the drain pipe leading to the water pump, checked for any moisture around the interior of the cabinet, and tried to start a new cycle, but it has tripped the fuse again. There is carbon coating the wire loom that plugs into the motor; could this indicate that the brushes are worn out, and would that be the cause of the tripped fuse. Cheers, Bruce. Like Report Bruce 1 year ago After contacting Bosch Home Appliances via email as instructed, I was disappointed to find it appears that they only post on this site to ultimately sell you a new replacement product, not to give you any advice as to what the fault may be that is affecting your current machine or how it can be fixed. Like Report Bosch H. Bosch Home Appliances 1 year ago Hi Bruce, thank you again for response. Please be advised this matter was passed through to our technician to review. It was determined that brushes could be the reason, however there also could be a number of other factors. The only way to guarantee the exact cause is to have a technician to assess the appliance. Like Report Rob 1 year ago Hi Tony, I'm having the same problem. Did you find out how to reset that model. Cheers, Rob Like Report tonym 1 year ago Hi Rob, Yes you can reset the error code by the following steps. 1.turn the appliance knob to the off or reset position,12 o'clock. 2.turn the knob to the 6 o'clock position. 3.press and hold the spin button and while holding the spin button turn the knob to the 7 o'clock position.Continue holding the spin button for about 5 seconds then release the spin button and now turn the knob to the off position. When you turn it back on it should have cleared the error code. NOTE it took 3 times for me to get it right. Also, can you use liquid bleach. And, if so, where does that go In my search for this information Ive been really horrified to read about all the negatives experiences with this washer due to mold and smell. I am really hoping for the best here. Im kind of at my wits end. Thanks to all for any info. The Bulky cycle seems to do a good job, but Im really picky about anything too heavy. I take anything questionable to the laundromat. It might seem fine at first but can shorten the life span. Actually, a new washing machine today isnt made that well.period. Some of these suggestions to add more water make sense, but, geez, it used to be easier!.See More Stainless Steel vs. Painted Ranges. Which Do You Prefer Poll. Q Comments 14 I would NOT buy a new white enameled range, but might consider a color Its interesting to hear that from you. I recall seeing a picture of your kitchen, and your vintage stove looks gorgeous. It IMHO fits well in that location. Mixing styles can work really well. On the other hand, you are correct and there are a lot of contemporary white appliances that just look and feel cheaply made.

It doesnt matter which color they are, if the quality isnt there, the appliance looks bad no matter the surface finish. And the reverse is true as well. Our house has a contemporary design with lots of natural woods, glass and stainless steel. So, both paneled and stainless appliances were a natural fit. If we had decided on a different material palette, I could absolutely have seen powder coated appliances. But then, we picked nicer appliances to begin with; that helps..See More Where do wall ovens and guests go. Kitchen layout advice please. Q Comments 11 Im uploading a plan on graph paper. Please excuse the amateur nature of it. I cook way better than I draw. I think were pretty set on the windows given that we want to maximize the view but welcome any tweaks. The plumbing is all flexible at this point. Were thinking trash and recycling to the left of the sinks. I love having 2 sinks. And, my plan is that theyll both be big single bowl. I put in the wall ovens where I thought they might go, but welcome suggestions. I think it might not look as nice as under counter plus range. But Im a function first person in the kitchen. Well figure the view and tile will make up for it. Ive taken out the butcher block cart, since my hunch was it wasnt big enough to be useful though I appreciate the suggestion of the bigger IKEA version. Weve intended for the functions to be clear here going clockwise from bottom rightfridge and grocery landing zone, prep zone, cook zone, clean zone and serve zonewith dishes closest to the dining room. Weve been brainstorming about whether we could do a smaller table in the dining room not shown on most days giving us room for a peninsula to come down where the are shownmaybe even at a diagonal. Q Comments 25 You all are fantastic. Thanks to everyone for your feedback, we really appreciate it. We are going to make some changes to the floor plan based on everyones feedback.

Were going to see what we can do to increase the living room width for better proportions. We will certainly do as you recommend. The master shower may change dimensions a little bit to make sure the freestanding tub is truly free standing and is not a burden to clean around. However, we are looking forward to a large shower. Things get busy and my wife and I love our time in the shower together. Its so wonderful and so appreciated on our end. Our previous house had a slab 4x9 island and we really loved it. We may end up widening the house a couple of feet just to try to get this right while keeping some of our existing dimensions. The SxS ovens will be inwall for sure. You are correct, the garage is 34 wide and 23 deep. Were really only planning for two cars to go in there, but with 3 motorcycles and sleds in the future, well see how that goes. My wife is OK with building a toy barn down the road if we feel like shop space is tight. If we end up widening the house 3 or so to solve some other issues Ill make sure each bay gets another foot. For the bathrooms, were planning on shelves at the bottom of the vanity that can hold a couple of folded towels. We had the attic space so were planning on getting a truss package to allow for that bonus space. Thank you! Were hoping with reworking the mudroom and making each bedroom have ensuite baths well solve most of your concerns. The bonus space above the garage is a concern but Im not sure were going to be able to change that much outside of adding a door at the stairs or something like that. Thanks again everyone for all of your thoughts and feedback. SO SO helpful!! Thanks all, and thanks to mskathyny for the question clearly not a dumb one after all! Helps prevent detergent residue build up. Best to check the instruction manual to confirm which. Majority of manufacturers have them available at their web site via model number search. I let it run with no clothes and let it mix with the water for about 20 seconds and then add clothes. If so, does pod go in the far left compartment. Thumbs down and no thank you I just bought a second hand Bosch Maxx from my sister and is my first front loader. I agree with Terry re symbols instead of words to show what to do. Nuts! So it goes, Prewash, main wash and Bleach. What detergents are prewash. I pour softner im the 3rd compartment as it goes straoght into the washer. Usually dont bother with the middle or II compartment. Any specific help.
